(418 - 362 BC) EPAMINONDAS

A Greek statesman and general. Born in Thebes. He was Commander-in-chief of the THEBAN Army in the Theban war with Sparta. With 6000 men, he defeated a much larger force of Spartans at the battle of LEUCTRA (371 BC) and overthrew the supremacy of Sparta. In 370 BC Epaminondas and Pelopidas unsuccessfully invaded Sparta. This expedition was followed by another in 368 BC and by a third in 366 BC.

Again in 362 BC he led a fourth against Sparta supported by strong allies yet in the face of great odds Sparta was defeated in the battle of Mantinea.
Though EPAMINONDAS was in battle, he was one of the best and wisest of Greek generals.
